A short introduction:

Dr David North is a specialist Orthopaedic knee surgeon, working in the Cape Winelands. He has a special interest in both arthroscopic and replacement knee surgeries.

David graduated from the University of Cape Town Medical School in 2006. Following his Internship in Pietermaritzburg, and community service in Kimberley, he started his Orthopaedic training. David completed his specialist training in Orthopaedic Surgery at the University of Cape Town in 2016, graduating with a FCS and a MMED in Orthopaedic Surgery.

David completed fellowships in knee surgery with two of the United Kingdom's leading knee surgeons, Andrew Porteous and Jonathan Eldridge, in Bristol. Upon his return to South Africa, David has worked as a consultant Orthopaedic Surgeon at Groote Schuur Hospital, Red Cross Children's Hospital, Life Vincent Pallotti Hospital, Paarl Provincial Hospital, and Paarl Mediclinic Hospital.

David is currently the president of the South African Knee Society, the Section Editor for Arthroplasty and Knees at the South African Orthopaedic Journal, and a member of the South African Orthopaedic Association.

He lectures and is involved in the training of Orthopaedic registrars in Knee surgery both through the University of Cape Town and Stellenbosch.

David is actively involved in research and lectures, publishes and presents research both locally and internationally.
